You may not always have a comfortable life, and you will not always be able to solve all of the world's problems at once. But don't ever underestimate the importance you can have, because history has shown us that courage can be contagious, and hope can take on a life of its own

Michelle Obama

How can embracing uncomfortable moments and being courageous help us realize our full potential?

Nelson Mandela, anti-apartheid activist, was South Africa's first Black head of state and the country's first head of state to be elected in a democratic election. In 2009, the United Nations General Assembly declared July 18, Nelson Mandela's birthday, as Nelson Mandela International Day. He asked the world to honor his legacy through helping their communities.

We love hearing from our founders. This month we're spotlighting Sheri Crosby Wheeler. #ItTakesAVillage
